Officer Was At Crossroads Of Abu Ghraib Command

Capt. Carolyn A. Wood received and distributed data on interrogations. Investigators hope she can help untangle events behind the abuse.

By David Zucchino and Greg Miller, Times Staff Writers

FT. BRAGG, N.C. - As investigations into the abuse of prisoners at U.S. detention centers in Iraq and Afghanistan drag on, one indication of the ambiguity surrounding the issue is that an obscure captain in Army intelligence has become a potentially pivotal figure even though she's not accused of wrongdoing.

The officer, Capt. Carolyn A. Wood, created a widely discussed PowerPoint chart at Iraq's Abu Ghraib prison that spelled out what kinds of interrogation tactics were permitted under Army rules and what methods required special approval.

But what is expected to make Wood, 34, a crucial witness for investigators is that her unique assignment at the sprawling facility last year put her, in the words of one colleague, "at the narrow center of the hourglass, receiving information from above and from below" in the prison chain of command.

As a result, Wood may shed light on central questions in the wide-ranging inquiry: Did the decisions of senior commanders who wanted to increase the flow of intelligence from detainees play a role in the abuses? What interrogation techniques were approved? And who was responsible for ensuring that soldiers at military prisons followed the rules?

Last month, a report by the Army inspector-general documented almost 100 cases of detainee abuse and wrongful death in U.S. detention facilities but called them "aberrations" committed by a few inadequately supervised troops. The report was met with skepticism by senators who didn't think it delved deeply enough.

Wood began her career as a 20-year-old private, had no direct role in interrogating detainees, according to friends and colleagues. But her administrative job as reports officer put her in a unique position to monitor and shepherd the transmission of intelligence at the interrogation center.

Sitting at a makeshift desk in a dilapidated building on the prison grounds, Wood was a conduit for day-to-day information collection, sending and receiving e-mail on a laptop computer. Friends and colleagues say she oversaw the production and distribution of intelligence reports from interrogations.

"She would disseminate information, taking it from lower levels and then sending it up the chain of command, and then back down," said a friend of the captain's who was familiar with prison operations.

Wood's chart, which was posted inside the prison, listed approved interrogation techniques from an Army field manual in one column and more coercive methods requiring commanders' approval in the second column. It became a sort of icon of the Abu Ghraib scandal.

The appearance of Wood's chart, titled "Interrogation Rules of Engagement," during a Senate hearing May 19 seemed to surprise Lt. Gen. Ricardo Sanchez, then the top U.S. commander in Iraq. He testified that he had never seen the chart, hadn't approved it and had no idea who had created it.

Wood apparently prepared the chart on her own initiative in late summer 2003, when there were no clear written guidelines beyond the standard Army field manual. The Joint Interrogation and Debriefing Center at Abu Ghraib, where Wood was the reports officer in charge, was not formally established until Sept. 20.

The chart was posted in the interrogation center before Sanchez issued his first written regulations. Sanchez and other senior commanders have debated senators over whether Wood's compilation was approved by superiors and whether it contradicted Sanchez's rules.

There is no direct evidence that Wood, who left Iraq in February and was stationed at Ft. Bragg until May, was involved in or condoned abuses. In fact, her preparation of the chart suggests that she understood the disjointed state of command at Abu Ghraib, which Sanchez has called "dysfunctional."

The prison had one military police officer for every 8 1/2 detainees, compared with one MP per two detainees at the U.S. military prison at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Wood brought to Abu Ghraib a background as an intelligence officer at Bagram air base in Afghanistan, where interrogation techniques generally are harsher than those used in Iraq. That experience, coupled with her central role in Abu Ghraib and her training in "tactical exploitation" of intelligence, have made Wood an important source of information for investigators.

Friends and colleagues, who spoke on condition of anonymity because the Army has ordered soldiers not to discuss her, described Wood as an efficient workaholic who had a knack for organization and neatness.

"She's the type of person who would take it upon herself to try to organize a confusing situation by putting together that chart the way she did," a friend said.

An interrogator who worked with Wood in Afghanistan said she provided file boxes for her colleagues to reduce office clutter. "She was very organizational," he said. "She got tired of people's stuff all over the place."

These colleagues said Wood would not have tolerated the abuses documented in photographs taken at Tier 1A of Abu Ghraib. One interrogator said she sometimes argued the cases of detainees at Bagram who were considered for transfer to Guantanamo, where conditions are more severe.

"I think she's a quality person. Sharp. Just a straight-line officer," he added. "I don't think she would have approved of anything like [the abuse] unless somebody above her told her it was going to happen that way."

That characterization is challenged by the reported allegations of a military lawyer for one of seven members of the 372nd Military Police Company facing criminal charges over events at Abu Ghraib.

At a hearing in Baghdad in April, the lawyer, Capt. Robert Shuck, said Wood was "involved in intensive interrogations of detainees, condoned some of the activities and stressed that that was standard procedure, what the accused [MP] was doing," the Washington Post reported in May, quoting from a transcript of the proceeding.

In addition, investigators are conducting a criminal inquiry into the deaths of two detainees who were under the control of the unit Wood served with in Afghanistan in December 2002.

One friend of Wood's said she had been questioned as part of the ongoing investigation headed by Lt. Gen. Anthony R. Jones, who was examining the role of military intelligence specialists at Abu Ghraib. The friend said Wood felt she was not sufficiently supported by commanders at the Senate hearings.

Army spokesmen at the Pentagon, at Ft. Bragg and in Baghdad have refused to provide details about Wood or her role at Abu Ghraib. They have not allowed her photograph to be released.

They said only that Wood had served as a military intelligence operations officer at the Bagram Collection Point in Afghanistan and was assigned to the 519th Military Intelligence Battalion at Abu Ghraib. Wood has declined interview requests.

She was transferred to the 519th from a military intelligence unit in Tikrit, in northern Iraq, because the 519th was understaffed, a friend said. She reported to Col. Thomas M. Pappas, commander of the 205th Military Intelligence Brigade. The head of the interrogation center, Lt. Col. Steven L. Jordan, also reported to Pappas.

Maj. Gen. Antonio M. Taguba, who conducted an earlier investigation of the prison, wrote that Pappas and Jordan were "directly or indirectly responsible" for detainee abuses because they failed to properly train or supervise soldiers under their command.

Taguba also cited abuses by members of the Joint Interrogation and Debriefing Center and the 205th brigade but did not name anyone pending the completion of Jones' investigation into "the extent of culpability of MI personnel." Wood was not mentioned among those interviewed by Taguba.

Wood's position at the prison was elevated Nov. 19, when Sanchez gave Pappas and his military intelligence brigade "tactical control" of the prison for base protection and detainee security. A military police commander previously had been in charge of tactical control.

Col. Marc Warren, the top Army lawyer in Iraq, who said he had spoken to Wood, told a Senate hearing in May that Wood prepared the chart "with all good intentions" but because it displayed the logo of Sanchez's command, it left the false impression that it had been approved by senior commanders.

Warren added that the chart "was intended to be a prophylaxis - there's really nothing insidious."

Wood's role at Abu Ghraib does not seem to have imperiled her Army career. She is a Bronze Star recipient who served in Bosnia and earned a college degree while in the service. She made the leap from enlisted person to officer by completing the Army's demanding officer candidate school in 1999.

In May, Wood attended a captain's course at the Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., a base spokeswoman said. The course is required for promotion. Wood is currently training at the Army's military intelligence school at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., a base spokeswoman said.

At the Senate hearing, Sanchez was asked how a junior commander such as Wood could prepare such a specific list of regulations without consulting with senior commanders for approval.

"Sir, it's difficult for me to understand it," the general replied. "You'd have to ask the commander."

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

(U) State of Training for 372nd MP Company on Specified Topics

The 372nd Military Police Company was mobilized first in August of 2001 for an SFOR (Bosnia) mission lasting six months, for a total mobilization time of nine months. They were demobilized from this mission in February 2002 and it was May before they received their equipment back and resumed IDT training. In October, 2002 the 372d MP Company was identified as a CGUI and was officially alerted on 6 Jan 2003 for Operation Enduring Freedom. The unit was mobilized in February 2003. They were recently extended and are still in theater. Last fall, some soldiers had to redeploy as a result of achieving 24 months of total mobilization (double tap), and they were not replaced. This was due to them having served in Noble Eagle prior to SFOR rotation.

On 7 December 2002 (from 1330-1430) the 372nd MP Company was scheduled to receive a Law of Land Warfare briefing. MAJ [redacted] was the SJA and OIC of the legal team which provided the training. Sign in sheets for this training have not been located. It is important to note that many soldiers were cross leveled into the unit upon mobilization and therefore would not have been present for this training period.

On Saturday, January 12, 2002, the 372nd MP Company was scheduled to receive training on a number of tasks related to Law and Order Operations. These tasks included: Process offenders, Select Type of Body Search to Perform, Use Unarmed Self Defense Techniques, Determine the Level of Force Required, Secure Offender with Hand Irons, Use of Riot Baton , and Riot Formations (each subject was an hour in length). These tasks all involve contact with prisoners.

In reviewing the 220th MP Brigade's Yearly Training Brief, Leadership training was scheduled and took place every quarter in the form of NCODP and ODP. Some of the subjects in FY02 included OPSEC procedures, Area Security, MMSO, and Prepare a Warning Order.

No specific evidence of Code of Conduct or Geneva Convention human rights standards training exists on any available training schedules, although it was stated that Geneva Convention training should also occur as a part of Post-Mobilization training and may have been provided at the Mobilization Site.

The 220th Bde METL (October 2000) includes the task "Direct Internment/Resettlement (I/R) Operations" for which the commander gave an assessment of a "P" rating on 1 December 2001. While all MPs receive I/R training, I/R Operations do not belong on a Combat Support MP company's METL and was therefore not a primary focus for 372nd MP Company training. In addition, in the last several years the only major USARC exercise (Exercise Gold Sword) involving processing and treatment of detainees and EPWs has been cancelled due to operational requirements of the units which would ordinarily conduct the training (800th MP Bde).

The 372d's normal peacetime parent command is the 336th MP Battalion from Pittsburgh, PA. While the 336th MP BN is deployed to Iraq, the 400th MP Battalion has assumed C2 of the soldiers of the 372d MP soldiers that have redeployed.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
Change #1 updated as of 13 May 2004

(U) Training of the 372nd MP Company prior to Operation Enduring Freedom

The 372d Military Police Company mobilized for an SFOR rotation on 4 August 2001 and returned from Bosnia on 18 March 2002. The unit did not begin any IDT training nor receive their equipment until May 2002. In late 2001 and early 2002, many of the soldiers that did not deploy to Bosnia mobilized with four (4) other Army Reserve units ISO Operation Noble Eagle. Records indicate that of the 372d Military Police soldiers mobilized for Operation Enduring Freedom/Iraqi Freedom, (41) had served under Operation Noble Eagle and (71) had deployed ISO SFOR (Bosnia). (58) had not mobilized under Noble Eagle or SFOR. In October 2002 the 372d MP Company was identified as a CGUI (Commanding General Unit of Interest). On 6 January 2003 the unit was alerted for Operation Enduring Freedom (OEF). The unit mobilized on 24 February 2003, reported to the Mobilization Station (Ft Lee, VA) and subsequently deployed to Iraq. This EXSUM covers the training period from the unit's reorganization and reconstitution from Bosnia to their mobilization for OEF.

Most of the training as documented in current training records indicate the unit trained on collective, supporting and individual tasks relating to a Combat Support Military Police mission.

Specifically in reference to the current situation involving the 372d Military Police Company, unit training records indicate:

On 6 AUG 01 the unit was validated by BG Szakmary on the following applicable tasks: Code of Conduct, Law of Land Warfare, SAEDA, Rules of Engagement and Force Protection.

On 7 DEC 02 the unit conducted Anti-terrorism Force Protection Training, Equal Opportunity Training, SAEDA training, and Law of Land Warfare training

IAW the Yearly Training Brief, the unit scheduled ODP and NCODP every quarter. These were primarily METL-focused and concentrated on Operations Security, Area Security, Maneuver and Mobility Support Operations, and Military Decision-making.

The unit's Mission-Essential Task List as of 15 July 2002 identified five tasks: 1. Conduct Law and Order Operations. 2. Area Security Operations. 3. Movement and Mobility Support Operations. 4. Mobilize, deploy and redeploy and 5. Conduct Anti-terrorism/Force Protection procedures. As a supporting task of Conduct AT/FP, the unit identified the following Internment/Resettlement (I/R) related tasks on their METL: 1. Supervise an EPW Holding Area and 2. Perform Field Processing of EPW. The Training Assessment Model (TAM) for TY 02 indicates that the unit was not scheduled to train on these during the IDT/drill periods, rather training for these tasks would be scheduled at Annual Training and upon Post-mobilization. The unit did evaluate both of these tasks as a "P", signifying needing additional training. They also annotated on the TAM that they needed improvement in each of the tasks.

The unit listed on their Post-mobilization Training and Support Requirements for FY 03 that "Supervising an EPW Holding Area" was one of 14 tasks the unit identified as a "Prioritized Collective Task" that would need to be trained on upon mobilization. As a Combat Support Military Police Company, the 372d Military Police Company would not typically train collectively during peacetime on Internment/Resettlement Operations.

Sir,
Have more folks than you can shake a stick at trying to contact TSBs and other folks involved in Post-MOB training for 372nd MP. To prevent a problem with multiple sources and to ensure integrity of information, especially considering the ongoing investigations, 1A is telling its subordinate units and MOBSTAs to forward all such offical requests to this headquarters and we will be the sole source of this information. This only applies to Post-MOB training of this unit, not pre-MOB. Inquiries from media sources will be referred to HQDA PAO, per CG's discussion with the DAS yesterday. Once we have all applicable information, will forward to you directly. Would ask that you assist in our effort to ensure accurate information is provided to folks with a need to know.

Here is the original tasking that came through channels concerning the Schlesinger Panel. The panel is scheduled to meet in early June. Our tasking is simply to conduct a mission analysis of the attached memo to identify specified and implied tasks in preparation for questions when the panel is in session. These questions will likely be very short-fused and time sensitive.

The first page outlines "training of regular and reserve personnel," as the only real specified task. As I read the focus of the panel and the underlying intent, I would submit that the panel, and our responses, will likely focus on the specific training of the 800th MP Brigade and the MI Brigade during Pre and Post Mobilization, to include an assessment of how well they performed during this training. It would be impossible to anticipate every question the panel may send in our direction, however, the previous outline should gather the salient points of interest necessary to accurately respond to the pane in a timely manner.

If you have additional questions please feel free to contact me.

MEMORANDUM FOR C3, MNFI

SUBJECT: Non 31E MP/ILO Pre-Deployment Training Requirements for the Iraqi Theater of Operations

1. Based on a comprehensive review of the 31E / Military Police – Internment/Resettlement Specialist task set and the unique considerations present in this theater for MP / ILO nominated OIF 2/3 units and Individual Augmentees (IAs), we have identified theater (Iraq) specific pre-deployment training requirements for detainee operations. (See enclosure). The task set represents the minimum number of 31E related tasks and other recommended supporting tasks requiring validation during the mobilization process and is in addition to other mandated subject matter / topics required for deployment to the Iraqi theater.

2. Request DIRLAUTH with FORSCOM relative to the deployment cycle training requirements for MPs and ILO MPs identified for duty in the Iraqi theater.

3. MP / ILO units and IAs arriving in support of OIF 2/3 must be trained to standard in the unique task set required in detainee operations in order to facilitate the effective transfer of operations during the rotation of forces without degradation of operational capabilities.

4. Please direct questions regarding this memorandum to the LTC [redacted], Detainee Operations at DSN 822-[redacted] or e-mail at [redacted]@iraq.centcom.smil.mil.

Roger. I am coordinating at light speed. Note the comment by General Helmly below. This helps.

"I believe that members of this unit had the requisite training to ensure that they were aware of and competent in the task needed to secure enemy prisoners of war, and to ensure that they were aware of the requirement for humane treatment of prisoners," Gen. Helmly said.

The Army also has said that all soldiers, regardless of job assignments, learn about the Geneva Conventions prohibiting mistreatment of prisoners of war and others.

Deputy Chief of Public Affairs
404-[redacted] / dsn 367[redacted]

(U) The 800th MP (I/R) units did not receive Internment/Resettlement (I/R) and corrections specific training during their mobilization period. Corrections training is only on the METL of two MP (I/R) Confinement Battalions throughout the Army, one currently serving in Afghanistan, and elements of the other are at Camp Arifjan, Kuwait. MP units supporting JTF-GTMO received ten days of training in detention facility operations, to include two days of unarmed self-defense, training in interpersonal communication skills, forced cell moves, and correctional officer safety. (ANNEX 19)
(U) The 800th MP Brigade has experienced challenges adapting its task organizational structure, training, and equipment resources from a unit designed to conduct standard EPW operations in the COMMZ (Kuwait). Further, the doctrinally trained MP Soldier-to-detainee population ratio and facility layout templates are predicated on a compliant, self-disciplining EPW population, and not criminals or high-risk security internees. (ANNEX 19)
12. (U) I find that prior to its deployment to Iraq for Operation Iraqi Freedom, the 320th MP Battalion and the 372nd MP Company had received no training in detention/internee operations. I also find that very little instruction or training was provided to MP personnel on the applicable rules of the Geneva Convention Relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War, FM 27-10, AR 190-8, or FM 3-19.40. Moreover, I find that few, if any, copies of the Geneva Conventions were ever made available to MP personnel or detainees. (ANNEXES 21-24, 33, and multiple witness statements)
RECOMMENDATIONS AS TO PART ONE OF THE INVESTIGATION:
1. (U) Immediately deploy to the Iraq Theater an integrated multi-discipline Mobile

Training Team (MTT) comprised of subject matter experts in internment/resettlement operations, international and operational law, information technology, facility management, interrogation and intelligence gathering techniques, chaplains, Arab cultural awareness, and medical practices as it pertains to I/R activities. This team needs to oversee and conduct comprehensive training in all aspects of detainee and confinement operations.
2. (U) That all military police and military intelligence personnel involved in any aspect of detainee operations or interrogation operations in CJTF-7, and subordinate units, be immediately provided with training by an international/operational law attorney on the specific provisions of The Law of Land Warfare FM 27-10, specifically the Geneva Convention Relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War, Enemy Prisoners of War, Retained Personnel, Civilian Internees, and Other Detainees, and AR 190-8.
10. (U) Camp Bucca, operated by the 310th MP Battalion, had a "Criminal Detainee In-Processing SOP" and a "Training Outline" for transferring and releasing detainees, which appears to have been followed. (ANNEXES 38 and 52)
Several detainees allegedly began to riot at about 1300 in all of the compounds at the Ganci encampment. This resulted in the shooting deaths of 3 detainees, 9 wounded detainees, and 9 injured US Soldiers. A 15-6 investigation by COL Bruce Falcone (220th MP Brigade, Deputy Commander) concluded that the detainees rioted in protest of their living conditions, that the riot turned violent, the use of non-lethal force was ineffective, and, after the 320th MP Battalion CDR executed "Golden Spike," the emergency containment plan, the use of deadly force was authorized. Contributing factors were lack of comprehensive training of guards, poor or non-existent SOPs, no formal guard-mount conducted prior to shift, no rehearsals or ongoing training, the mix of less than lethal rounds with lethal rounds in weapons, no AARs being conducted after incidents, ROE not posted and not understood, overcrowding, uniforms not standardized, and poor communication between the command and Soldiers. (ANNEX 8)

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
(PART THREE)
(U) Investigate the training, standards, employment, command policies, internal procedures, and command climate in the 800th MP Brigade, as appropriate: (Names deleted) (ANNEXES 45-91) REGARDING PART THREE OF THE INVESTIGATION, I MAKE THE FOLLOWING SPECIFIC FINDINGS OF FACT: 1. (U) I find that BG Janis Karpinski took command of the 800th MP Brigade on 30 June 2003 from BG Paul Hill. BG Karpinski has remained in command since that date. The 800th MP Brigade is comprised of eight MP battalions in the Iraqi TOR: 115th MP Battalion, 310th MP Battalion, 320th MP Battalion, 324th MP Battalion, 400th MP Battalion, 530th MP Battalion, 724th MP Battalion, and 744th MP Battalion. (ANNEXES 41 and 45) 2. (U) Prior to BG Karpinski taking command, members of the 800th MP Brigade believed they would be allowed to go home when all the detainees were released from the Camp Bucca Theater Internment Facility following the cessation of major ground combat on 1 May 2003. At one point, approximately 7,000 to 8,000 detainees were held at Camp Bucca. Through Article-5 Tribunals and a screening process, several thousand detainees were released. Many in the command believed they would go home when the detainees were released. In late May-early June 2003 the 800th MPBrigade was given a new mission to manage the Iraqi penal system and several detention centers. This new mission meant Soldiers would not redeploy to CONUS when anticipated. Morale suffered, and over the next few months there did not appear to have been any attempt by the Command to mitigate this morale problem. (ANNEXES 45 and 96) 3. (U) There is abundant evidence in the statements of numerous witnesses that soldiers throughout the 800th MP Brigade were not proficient in their basic MOS skills, particularly regarding internment/resettlement operations. Moreover, there is no evidence that the command, although aware of these deficiencies, attempted to correct them in any systemic manner other than ad hoc training by individuals with civilian corrections experience. (Multiple Witness Statements and the Personal Observations of the Investigation Team) 4. (U) I find that the 800th MP Brigade was not adequately trained for a mission that included operating a prison or penal institution at Abu Ghraib Prison Complex. As the Ryder Assessment found, I also concur that units of the 800th MP Brigade did not receive corrections-specific training during their mobilization period. MP units did not receive pinpoint assignments prior to mobilization and during the post mobilization training, and thus could not train for specific missions. The training that was accomplished at the mobilization sites were developed and implemented at the company level with little or no direction or supervision at the Battalion and Brigade levels, and consisted primarily of common tasks and law enforcement training. However, I found no evidence that the Command, although aware of this deficiency, ever requested specific corrections training from the Commandant of the Military Police School, the US Army Confinement Facility at Mannheim, Germany, the Provost Marshal General of the Army, or the US Army Disciplinary Barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. (ANNEXES 19 and 76) 5. (U) I find that without adequate training for a civilian internee detention mission, Brigade personnel relied heavily on individuals within the Brigade who had civilian corrections experience, including many who worked as prison guards or corrections officials in their civilian jobs. Almost every witness we interviewed had no familiarity with the provisions of AR 190-8 or FM 3-19.40. It does not appear that a Mission Essential Task List (METL) based on in-theater missions was ever developed nor was a training plan implemented throughout the Brigade. (ANNEXES 21, 22, 67, and 81) 6. (U) I also find, as did MG Ryder's Team, that the 800th MP Brigade as a whole, was understrength for the mission for which it was tasked. Army Doctrine dictates that an I/R Brigade can be organized with between 7 and 21 battalions, and that the average battalion size element should be able to handle approximately 4000 detainees at a time. This investigation indicates that BG Karpinski and her staff did a poor job allocating resources throughout the Iraq JOA. Abu Ghraib (BCCF) normally housed between 6000 and 7000 detainees, yet it was operated by only one battalion. In contrast, the HVD Facility maintains only about 100 detainees, and is also run by an entire battalion. (ANNEXES 19, 22, and 96) 7. (U) Reserve Component units do not have an individual replacement system to mitigate medical or other losses. Over time, the 800th MP Brigade clearly suffered from personnel shortages through release from active duty (REFRAD) actions, medical evacuation, and demobilization. In addition to being severely undermanned, the quality of life for Soldiers assigned to Abu Ghraib (BCCF) was extremely poor. There was no DFAC, PX, barbershop, or MWR facilities. There were numerous mortar attacks, random rifle and RPG attacks, and a serious threat to Soldiers and detainees in the facility. The prison complex was also severely overcrowded and the Brigade lacked adequate resources and personnel to resolve serious logistical problems. Finally, because of past associations and familiarity of Soldiers within the Brigade, it appears that friendship often took precedence over appropriate leader and subordinate relationships. (ANNEX 101, Multiple Witness Statements, and the Personal Observations of the Investigation Team) 8. (U) With respect to the 800th MP Brigade mission at Abu Ghraib (BCCF), I find that there was clear friction and lack of effective communication between the Commander, 205th MI Brigade, who controlled FOB Abu Ghraib (BCCF) after 19 November 2003, and the Commander, 800th MP Brigade, who controlled detainee operations inside the FOB. There was no clear delineation of responsibility between commands, little coordination at the command level, and no integration of the two functions. Coordination occurred at the lowest possible levels with little oversight by commanders. (ANNEXES 31, 45, and 46)

9. (U) I find that this ambiguous command relationship was exacerbated by a CJTF-7 Fragmentary Order (FRAGO) 1108 issued on 19 November 2003. Paragraph 3.C.8, Assignment of 205th MI Brigade Commander's Responsibilities for the Baghdad Central Confinement Facility, states as follows:

3.C.8. A. (U) 205 MI BRIGADE.

3.C.8. A. 1. (U) EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY COMMANDER 205 MI BRIGADE ASSUMES RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE BAGHDAD CONFINEMENT FACILITY (BCCF) AND IS APPOINTED THE FOB COMMANDER. UNITS CURRENTLY AT ABU GHRAIB (BCCF) ARE TACON TO 205 MI BRIGADE FOR "SECURITY OF DETAINEES AND FOB PROTECTION."

Although not supported by BG Karpinski, FRAGO 1108 made all of the MP units at Abu Ghraib TACON to the Commander, 205th MI Brigade. This effectively made an MI Officer, rather than an MP Officer, responsible for the MP units conducting detainee operations at that facility. This is not doctrinally sound due to the different missions and agendas assigned to each of these respective specialties. (ANNEX 31)

10 (U) Joint Publication 0-2, Unified Action Armed Forces (UNAAF), 10 July 2001 defines Tactical Control (TACON) as the detailed direction and control of movements or maneuvers within the operational area necessary to accomplish assigned missions or tasks. (ANNEX 42)

"TACON is the command authority over assigned or attached forces or commands or military capability made available for tasking that is limited to the detailed direction and control of movements or maneuvers within the operational area necessary to accomplish assigned missions or tasks. TACON is inherent in OPCON and may be delegated to and exercised by commanders at any echelon at or below the level of combatant commander."

11. (U) Based on all the facts and circumstances in this investigation, I find that there was little, if any, recognition of this TACON Order by the 800th MP Brigade or the 205th MI Brigade. Further, there was no evidence if the Commander, 205th MI Brigade clearly informed the Commander, 800th MP Brigade, and specifically the Commander, 320th MP Battalion assigned at Abu Ghraib (BCCF), on the specific requirements of this TACON relationship. (ANNEXES 45 and 46)

12. (U) It is clear from a comprehensive review of witness statements and personal interviews that the 320th MP Battalion and 800th MP Brigade continued to function as if they were responsible for the security, health and welfare, and overall security of detainees within Abu Ghraib (BCCF) prison. Both BG Karpinski and COL Pappas clearly behaved as if this were still the case. (ANNEXES 45 and 46)

Want to publish guidance for specific pre deployment training required for units going over to perform detainee mission ... Previous guidance has stated all units must be proficient in METL derived for mission ... But didn't address each type unit.

Talked w/ MG Barrett yesterday ... He says you all have recommended tasks ... Would appreciate your help here

Also, looking at what training should be required of all soldiers prior to deployment ... Already require Law of Land Warfare and handling of POWs ... Any other tasks you'd recommend?

Thanks,

Sirs

The MP School is currently supporting detention operations training at Fort Dix for units slated to deploy to GTMO to perform the detention mission. I visited this training last week and can attest to the fact that it meets the Army standards.

In addition, there are 26 MOS 31E (Corrections) NCOs deployed to Iraq conducting detention ops training for both MP and non-MP units who are or will be performing the detention mission. They are using a TSP developed by our corrections SME at USAMPS who has conducted three visits to GTMO and two to Iraq in the past year. To date 713 of 1458 Soldiers, airman and marines have been trained. End of training is projected for 24 June 2004.

In both training programs, the instruction makes no distinction based on the technical legalities of the prisoners' Geneva Convention status. In both programs, the requirement for humane treatment of all prisoners at all times as specified under the Geneva Conventions is repeatedly and strongly reinforced.

JB, Ray...to add...

There is a major concern on treatment of detainees at GITMO vice in IZ. In particular, the application of the Geneva Convention to those detained at GITMO since they are categorized as members of terrorists organization, are stateless, and whereby the GC is not applicable. There is specific language in executive order that enumerates this. Members of Congress have questioned this during hearings this week.

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD

SUBJECT: FT Carson Military Police (MP) Enemy Prisoner of War (EPW) Training for OPERATION IRAQI FREEDOM (OIF)

1. The following MP units mobilized through Fort Carson for OIF:

a. 220 MP Co (Combat Support), Colorado National Guard
b. 438 MP Det (Law and Order), 96 Regional Readiness Command (RRC)
c. 396 MP Det (Law and Order), 96 RRC
d. 235 MP Co (Guard), South Dakota National Guard

2. Of the units listed above, only the 220 MP Co received EPW training while mobilizing at Fort Carson. EPW operations are not in the METL of the Law and Order detachments, and 235 MP Co mobilized to augment the 759 MP Bn (FT Carson's active duty MP battalion) for post security and traffic enforcement. 235 MP Co did not deploy overseas for OIF.

3. The EPW training conducted consisted of two tasks: 1) Conduct Collecting Point and Holding Area Operations (MTP # 19-313-10, Task # 19-2-31003) and 2) Perform Field Processing of EPWs (MTP # 19-313-10, Task # 19-2-31004). Specifically, training included a 2 hour block of classroom instruction on each task followed by a 1 hour block of practical exercise. Training for these tasks culminated during the conduct of an FTX from 10-13 February 2003. The unit received a "T" rating from the OC/Ts running the exercise in both tasks. However, the Company Commander rated his unit a "P" in these tasks upon completion of his post-mobilization training.

4. Furthermore, LTC [redacted] 2/91st TSB Deputy Commander, contacted the 220 MP Company Commander in theater via email and was told the unit was never assigned missions to conduct EPW operations.

5. POC for this memorandum is LTC [redacted] 719-526[redacted]

MEMORANDUM FOR Commander, 2nd Brigade, 91st Division (TS), Fort Carson, CO 80913

SUBJECT: 220 Military Police Company Post-Mobilization Training Summary.

1. I certify 220 Military Co has completed required post-mobilization training on 18 February 2003 and is prepared to deploy in support of Operation ENDURING FREEDOM.

2. 220 MP Co, Colorado Army National Guard, is a military police unit. The 220 MP Co was alerted for mobilization on 10 January 2003, conducted home station preparations from 13-23 January in Denver, Colorado, and deployed to Fort Carson, CO for post mobilization training from 24 January-18 February 2003.

3. The 220 MP Co successfully conducted 114 of 114 M-16, 120 of 123 M-9, 37 of 37 M-203, 66 of 66 MK-19, and 27 of 27 M249 qualifications, and critical NBC tasks during the post-mobilization training period. The 3 M-9 non qualifications were due to ammunition shortages and will be made up OCONUS.

4. The 220 MP Co is a mission capable unit. Following is a list of trained tasks, strengths, weaknesses, and CDR's Assessment.

4a, d, h. The 220th is proficient in conducting Traffic Control Points (TCPs), route reconnaissance and surveillance, and convoy security after conducting multiple iterations of these tasks during the collective training phase at mob station. Planning and execution of these missions are this unit's strong points. These tasks are executed well from platoon down to squad level.

4k & l. Each platoon is well versed in conducting Area and Zone Recons. The unit conducts mounted sweeps well and they are exceptionally strong at conducting dismounted sweeps. Overall, control and execution of movement techniques are outstanding.

4m, o. The 220th is capable of conducting the Base / Base cluster defense and the crossing of a chemically contaminated area. Where the unit falls short is the coordination of the unit defense plan (within an overall base cluster defense plan) and unmasking procedures at the platoon and squad levels. Each platoon should take some time to conduct some opportunity training in these tasks. Overall the unit is capable of accomplishing these missions.

5. The 220th MP CO has outlined that the following tasks will occur OCONUS for sustainment training. Platoon and Squad level planning and execution of Cordon and Search procedures, Base / Base Cluster Coordination, and Crossing a Chemically Contaminated Area.

6. Equipment. Currently all unit ERC A shortages are due to FORSCOM shortages. By the unit CDR's assessment only the shortage of 26 of 40 CLS Bags are a concern.

7. Personnel. Unit is required to have 180 PAX and currently has 150 PAX deployable. If the unit drops below 136 PAX they will become P-3.

DETAINEE VS. EPW
➢ ALL PERSONS UNDER THE CONTROL OF U.S. FORCES ARE CONSIDERED DETAINEES.
➢ AT THE POINT OF CAPTURE IT IS TOO DIFFICULT TO DETERMINE WHETHER A PERSON IS AN EPW, SECURITY INTERNEE, CIVILIAN, CRIMINAL DETAINEE, ETC.
➢ TO AVOID CONFUSION AND LEGAL IMPLICATIONS OF ARBITARTILY CLASSIFYING INDIVIDUALS, WE REFER TO THEM AS DETAINEES AND TREAT THEM AS EPWS.

TAG, TAG all personnel with DTG, capturing unit, location, circumstances, weapons, evidence obtained

VIGNETTE # 1

While on cordon and search, your platoon spots two Iraqis carrying AK 47's. One of them lifts his weapon and gets one round off before a member of your squad shoots and kills him. The other Iraqi begins to flee, but eventually stops, throws his weapon down and places his hands in the air to indicate surrender. You learn that one of the members of your platoon was struck in the leg by the enemy round? How do you handle the Iraqi that appears to be surrendering?

RESPONSE # 1

- Approach the Iraqi with his hands the air with caution and treat as an EPW. Remember deadly force is only authorized if they continue to pose a threat. Enemy that indicates surrender is not a legitimate target until demonstrates a contrary intent.

- Apply the 5 S's. Use the minimum force necessary to gain control over the prisoner by ensuring that he has no other weapons. Place him in zip-ties or handcuffs.

- Ensure that the detainee is properly tagged (CPA Form), that sworn statements detailing his capture or provided and that any items taken from the detainee are noted on a DA Form 4137.

- Render medical attention as necessary. Treat remains of deceased Iraqis in accordance with 1AD FRAGO 62A.

VIGNETTE # 2

Back at your Battalion Holding Facility, you are responsible for pulling security on detainees. One of the detainees continues to yell and scream and refuses to remain quiet as instructed. The other detainees are annoyed and begin to complain by banging and kicking their cells. How should you deal with this situation?

RESPONSE # 2

- The detainee does not pose a physical threat to you, but is creating a disturbance in your facility. Ensure you follow facility SOP for security and request assistance from your NCOIC, OIC and an interpreter.

- Use the minimum amount of force to necessary to eliminate the disturbance. If practical, isolate the detainee.

- If he persists consider restraining. Do not gag the detainee unless you are certain he has no medical ailments. Monitor the other detainees closely and provide continuous sitreps if the disturbance persists.

VIGNETTE # 3

You have a large number of detainees in your temporary holding facility. Several detainees begin to complain that they need water to wash up and that they wish to use the latrine. You major concern is that more detainees are requesting to wash up and use the latrine than you have to ensure proper security. How should you deal with the situation?

RESPONSE # 3

- Your facility should have schedule posted in Arabic to inform the detainees when they can expect to eat, bathe and use the latrine.
- Depending on the circumstances, you facility may have to vary these times. Use your SOP.
- Prioritize according to the needs of the detainees with particular attention to the needs of women, children, the elderly any detainees that may have a disability. Those who need to use the latrine take precedence over those that wish to wash up.
- Always provide medical attention when necessary

VIGNETTE # 4

You are on guard shift at your holding facility, a 5-ton pulls up with new detainees for in-processing. You notice that one of the detainees is barely able to walk and appears to be in severe pain. In fact, his right leg appears to be broken. You review his CPA Apprehension Form and the sworn statements and learn that this detainee attacked another soldier in your Battalion and was injured as a necessary use of force in self-defense. What should you do?

RESPONSE # 4

- Call for medical treatment for the detainee before in-processing any of the other detainees
- According to the Geneva Conventions, EPWs are given medical care in accordance with normal triage procedures. Based on the severity of the injury, this detainee should receive treatment as soon as possible.
- Secure the remainder of the detainees before completing your in-processing procedures, until a medic or surgeon arrives to assist.
- Note: If you suspect any abuse of detainees has occurred, report this immediately to the 2BCT Battle Captain

VIGNETTE # 5

Same situation as before, except now it is 0330 and you are well into your guard shift at the facility. At 0315, you conducted your last walk-by to check on the status of each detainee. All seemed secure and asleep. Though it is late, you are alert and hear a noise coming from inside the facility towards one of the rear detainee cells. As you step through the salley-port, you see that one of the detainees is attempting to escape. He has taken his shirt off and is using in attempt to minimize his injuries has attempts to scale the concertina wire. What do you do?

001052

RESPONSE # 5

- Follow your Facility SOP for handling escape attempts. Notify QRF to cordon off the facility and prevent the detainee from leaving the immediate area.

- Use the minimum force necessary to recapture the detainee. Remember deadly force may only be used as a last resort. If there is a way to regain control of the detainee without resorting to deadly force, use it.

- Ensure that the remaining detainees are secured. Once recaptured apply the procedure for securing detainees and immediately provide a sitrep to higher.

3. Do not jeopardize a year of heroism for five minutes of frustration.

COALITION PROVISIONAL AUTHORITY FORCES APPREHENSION FORM

Why was this person detained? At approx 292350 Jul 1st Platoon was conducting a patrol in Zone 1. SGT Schmatz heard a woman yelling and upon turning the corner saw the woman pointing to a neighboring building. He then saw D running from the building carrying what looked like electrical wiring and light fixtures. PFC Schmatz and crew of his M1114 chased D, who ran to a red truck, reached in, and then fired a burst of 5-8 rounds from a rifle he pulled out.

Who witnessed this person being detained or the reason for detention? Give names, contact numbers, addresses.
The woman who yelled to SGT Schmatz was Fatimah Noor Razak, who had seen D break the door and then rip out the light fixtures and all electrical wiring from the neighboring house, which was empty at the time. Razak's two minor children, Anwar Abdul Razak (18) and Amed Ali Razak (16) also witnessed part of D's activities in the neighboring house. In addition to the three members of the Razak family, three other soldiers who were with SGT Schmatz saw parts of the chase and apprehension of D. These were PFC Jason K. Ball, SPC Harvey L. Wilkshire, and PV2 Herman L. Mulville, all of the same platoon and contact information as SGT Schmatz.

- Provide the reason for the detention in a brief narrative.
- Ensure that all key witnesses are identified.

UNCLASSIFIED

Form Instructions and Sample Completed Form

How was this person traveling (car, bus, on foot)? By foot. He appears to have arrived in the area by vehicle.

Who was with this person? No one. He appears to have been acting on his own.

- In the sample case, the individual detained is a lone offender.
- When two or more individuals are acting together, it is important to annotate this and to identify other detainees by detainee number.

UNCLASSIFIED 18

Form Instructions and Sample Completed Form

What weapons was this person carrying? AK 47, which was fired at coalition forces. See front. Upon search of the vehicle, an RPG was found. Both the rifle and the RPG were evacuated to the Corps Holding Area and evidence/custody forms were completed and annotated with detainee number.

What contraband was this person carrying? Stolen electrical fixtures and wiring. Arms were full with a tangle of wires and light sockets. D's capture was made easier because he could not move as quickly with full arms. The property was evacuated with the detainee and tagged with an evidence/custody form and the detainee number.

- Any additional weapons, not mentioned on the front should be described on the back side.
- Describe other contraband or evidence. Annotate whether Evidence/Property Custody Documents (DA Forms 4137) have been completed and ensure that evidence is linked to the detainee by marking with detainee number.

UNCLASSIFIED 19

Form Instructions and Sample Completed Form

What other weapons were seized? RPG, from vehicle.

What other information did you get from this person? Detainee claimed that his own house was looted by the occupant of the home he was stealing the wiring from. D claimed that he simply want to get his own house running again. D also claimed that he was not firing at coalition troops but that he had been fired upon by another Iraqi 1st Platoon could find no evidence to support this claim.

Additional Helpful Information: Fatimah Noor Razak and her two sons, Anwar Abdul Razak and Amed Ali Razak had excellent recall of events. They stated that D had torn down the door to the home next door to theirs at around 2330 and that he proceeded to rip out ceiling tiles to get at the electrical wires. They were able to see his actions through a broken, uncovered window directly across the alleyway between houses. The Razak family is from this part of Baghdad City and has no intention of relocating, so they should be reachable as witnesses for the medium term. They can identify D by face and by the tatoo he has on his left arm. They can also identify the weapon he carried (it contained 3 notches on it) and the bundle of wires and fixtures he removed from the house. Finally, they can remember the car he ran to and the weapon he retrieved and fired. DA Form 2823 Sworn Statement was provided by Fatimah.

- Be sure to describe any likely defenses or extenuation/mitigation the detainee might raise.
- If there is no evidence to support such defenses or extenuation/mitigation, say so.

MEMORANDUM FOR CONCERNED PERSONNEL

Subject: RSS/RHA Detainee Holding Area Guidance

References:

a. OPORD 03-06 [Procedures for detainees of intelligence interest and criminal detainees]
b. 2 ACR FRAGO 139 [Regimental Holding Area]
c. ENCLOSURE 1 [Min Standards for Brigade Holding Areas] FRAGO 539A, OPORD 03-215
d. 1 AD PAM 1-201 Command Inspection Checklist [Detainee Holding Facilities] September 2003

1. Regimental Support Squadron (RSS) will maintain the Regimental Detainee Holding Area (RHA). This guidance will assist in the daily operations of the Facility and ensure its compliance with International Humanitarian Law. RHA personnel will treat the detained personnel with dignity and respect and will handle all detainees with the minimum force necessary as required by the situation.

2. RHA personnel will not assume responsibility for any detainee until such time that all required documentation has been correctly filled out and all personal effects have been inventoried, cataloged, and stored. When appropriate, detainees will be segregated based upon their individual status. Criminal detainees must be segregated from EPWs and internees held for intelligence or security reasons.

3. A RHA advisory counsel will meet NLT 0800 hrs daily to review the detainee case files to ensure compliance with established procedures and that the detainee is processed and ready to be transferred or released. At a minimum, the counsel will consist of the Squadron S-2, and Assistant Operations Officer, and RHA NCOIC. No detainee will be moved, transferred or released from the RHA without the RSS Squadron Commander's approval.

4. RHA guard force will maintain a ratio of 5:1 between detainees and guards with a minimum of 2 guards present at all times. The RHA NCOIC will maintain the guard roster and will ensure that it is posted weekly. At no other time will the roster be altered without the approval of the RHA NCOIC. Sections tasked to provide guards will ensure that the RHA NCOIC is notified of planned missions that require the roster to be altered. Sections will not pull guards without ensuring that there is a replacement.

5. RHA NCOIC will ensure that one guard is on roving duty monitoring the activities of the detainees in their respective cells at all times. This guard will record their initials and time of their check, at a minimum every 30 minutes on the cell inspection form. If available a second guard will be utilized as an outdoor roving guard to ensure secondary perimeter security.

6. At a minimum, the RHA guard force will:

a. Treat all detainees with dignity and respect. Detained Foreign Military Officers will be treated as appropriate to their rank.
b. Handle all detainees with the minimum force necessary as required by the situation. No form of abuse, physical or mental (including the use of abusive language), will be directed at the detainees.
c. Interior guards will check all cells with detainees constantly. At least once every 30 minutes checks will be recorded on cell logs. Guards coming onto shift will ensure the presence of all detainees and their compliance of established guidelines as brief to them upon their reception at RHA.

d. If a detainee is unaccounted, at any time guards, will IMEDIATELY report the absence to the Shift NCOIC who will in turn notify Camp Muleskinner FPC at DNVT: 587-5027.
e. Prior to shift change the outgoing Shift NCOIC will conduct a full inspection of the RHA area and conduct a prisoner count with the incoming Shift NCOIC present. Only after inspections are complete and detainees are accounted for will the outgoing NCOIC and Guards be relived of duty.
f. Guards will read and review all special instructions prior to assuming guard duties in RHA.
g. Ensure that detainees maintain the cleanliness of their respective holding cell. The guard force is responsible for the cleanliness of the common areas and police call around the RHA. Police call and trash removal will be conducted at the change of shifts. Daily inspections of cells will be conducted to ensure integrity, security, and cleanliness of the cells. Any attempts to weaken the cells will result in the detainee being restrained (zip-tied) and removed from the cell so that repairs / corrections can be made.
h. Ensure that the detainees are provided meals (MREs) and water throughout their shift. Meals will be given out at 0800, 1200, and 1800 hours daily. Empty water bottles will be filled and given to each detainee upon request. Guards will ensure there is enough potable water on hand to re-fill the bottles as needed.
i. Maintain and enforce the uniform policy. The uniform for inside the RHA is DCUs, but may be upgraded as the situation dictates. At no time will the guards remove their blouse while on duty. RHA guards will enforce this standard.
j. While out of the ready room guards will not eat, drink soft drinks, read, write letters, or conduct any other business that may distract them while on duty. Guards will perform their duties IAW FM 22-6 and established procedures. Guards are not permitted to leave the RHA without ensuring that the detainee guard ration is maintained. Guards will be permitted to leave the RHA to use the latrine, however, they are not permitted to go to the barracks/ sleeping areas to wake up the next shift.
k. Maintain an "Amber" weapon status with magazine in well and the selector switch on safe. Upon shift change, the off going guards will move to the nearest clearing barrel and clear their weapon. Guards will maintain positive control of their weapons while on duty. At no time will the weapon be left unattended or under the control of another guard.
l. The Stand-by guards will escort detainees being transferred to the DIF or Corps Holding Area. The only exception it this is when all detainees are being transferred the current shift will provide the escort.

7. Upon arrival and while detained the detainees will:

a. Be interviewed by the RHA NCOIC, CI agent, or Squadron S-2 and screened for medical problems or signs of physical abuse.
b. Have any restraints (hand-cuffs, zip-ties) replaced so that their hands are in front. Zip-ties will be placed so that they secure the detainee's hands, but not to the extent that they pose a medical risk. Restraining devices will be used until the detainee is determined that he/she is no longer a security risk. This determination will be made during the interview with S-2 or CI personnel.
c. No talking until after the completion of the initial interview. If a detainee refuses to adhere to this policy, the RHA guards are authorized to gag them. By taping his / her mouth. The gag will not be placed so that it poses a medical risk. Detainees will be briefed on this policy upon arrival with the assistance of a qualified translator.
d. Be permitted, after the initial interview, to walk freely around their respective cell. They will not be permitted outside of the cell unless under escort. The only authorized reasons for leaving the cell are to use the latrine, to be moved for questioning, or as directed by the chain of command.
e. Be permitted, upon completion of the initial interview, to conduct religious activities (pray). If needed, the RHA guards will un-bind the detainee's hands.

8. If any medical issue is identified, the RHA NCOIC will be notified and proper medical treatment will be given. The medics on site will assess the EPW to determine what is needed. If determined that the detainee has to be transferred to the medical treatment facility, RSS, Transportation will be provided with guards to RSS. The medic will stay with the patient as needed to brief the on call PA of symptoms found.

9. If adequate supplies are available, detainees will be permitted to conduct personal hygiene in the morning under the supervision of the RHA guards.

10. Requests for special privileges, such as smoking, will be brought to the attention of the RHA NCOIC, Squadron Assistant Operations Officer, S-2, or chain of command for action. The decision will be made based on the detainee's status and overall demeanor/ level of cooperation.

11. All EPWs that are of 17 years or younger and or female will be put in a separate cell. At no time will a male soldier search a female EPW. A female soldier will be requested if not available to conduct the search in the presence of an NCO and a translator. At no time will this ever be negotiated to save time.

12. While in the RHA, the detainee will be treated within the guideline established under international humanitarian law and through military channels. RHA guards are permitted to use the appropriate force, including deadly force, if needed. If force is used, it will be reported and if need, an investigation will be conducted by the command. If determined that excessive force or any form of abuse was used on the detainees, the person or persons can be subject to disciplinary actions under the Uniformed Code of Military Justice.

Want to publish guidance for specific pre deployment training required for units going over to perform detainee mission ... Previous guidance has stated all units must be proficient in METL derived for mission ... But didn't address each type unit.

Talked w/ MG Barrett yesterday ... He says you all have recommended tasks ... Would appreciate your help here

Also, looking at what training should be required of all soldiers prior to deployment ... Already require Law of Land Warfare and handling of POWs ... Any other tasks you'd recommend?

Thanks,

ISSUE: Detainee Operations before and after May 2004 60 Minutes broadcast on Abu Ghraib

Actions prior to 4 May 04.

FORSCOM provided combat arms, combat support, and combat service support forces to engage in major hostilities. FORSCOM training guidance required units to be proficient in tasks essential to their mission. Individuals are trained on Rules of Engagement and Rules for the Use of Force.

Actions after 4 May 04.
FORSCOM responds to pre-mobilization and post mobilization training questions concerning several Military Police units mobilized and deployed for Operation Iraqi Freedom.

FORSCOM is aware of the developing situation regarding alleged detainee abuse at Abu Ghraib, and some of the actions being taken by Training and Doctrine Command and the combatant commander chain of command to assess the situation, define the problem, and make recommendations. FORSCOM starts revisions of training guidance in response to initial TRADOC documentation and LTG McKiernan paper with training recommendations.

General training guidance is changed as follows:

- All deploying units and headquarters will conduct or receive Law of War and Code of Conduct training supported by a Judge Advocate where feasible, Active Component units will perform this training within 60 days prior to deployment. Reserve Component units will conduct this training at the mob station. Training will stress -
    - The Geneva Conventions with specific emphasis on the Geneva Convention relative to the treatment of civilian persons in time of war;
    - The basic principles of humane treatment and prohibited acts outlined in AR 190-8, paragraph 1-5b and c, for any captured or detained person, which includes those captured individuals suspected of being unlawful combatants; and
    - The importance of immediately reporting all suspected Law of War violations to the chain of command.
- All individuals receive training on -
    - The Law of War (Geneva Convention) briefing
    - Army Values Briefing
    - Comply with the Law of War and the Geneva and Hague Conventions
- All leaders receive training on -
    - Enforce the Law of War and the Geneva and Hague Conventions
    - Supervise the Handling of Enemy Personnel and Equipment at the Squad level

Specific training guidance is published for units performing internment and detainment operations based on initial training tasks identified by TRADOC and LTG McKiernan's white paper.

Specific questions

6. Provide unit training exercises that existed to train detainee operations and establish links between MP and MI units. Has training expanded to incorporate lessons learned from OIF and Bosnia:

- Before and after 4 May: For units deploying as part of a brigade or division, the mission rehearsal exercise and staff exercises provide a training event where all elements work in concert. For echelons above division (EAD) and echelons above corps (EAC) units, no standard mission rehearsal exercise with other units is conducted.

- After 4 May: Individual, leader, and collective training has changed in response to lessons learned in OIF. Training has not been changed in response to lessons learned in Bosnia.

9. What training has been incorporated into our MP/MI schools to prepare soldiers/leaders for detainee operations?

- This question can be answered by Training and Doctrine Command.

10. What training existed to prepare soldiers to report detainee abuse and use of the ethical decision making process when dealing with different categories of detainees? How has this training changed?

- Before 4 May: Units were required to be trained and proficient in their mission essential tasks. FORSCOM OIF/OEF Training guidance did not explicitly address training tasks related to preparing soldiers to report detainee abuse or using the ethical decision making process, but all reserve and active component units are required to conduct Law of War and other mandatory briefings annually. No training was specifically directed in the OIF training guidance on differences in categories of detainees.

- After 4 May: Units are required to be trained and proficient in their mission essential tasks. FORSCOM OIF/OEF training guidance was changed to incorporate specific training for all individuals on the Law of War, the Geneva and Hague Conventions, and reporting violations of the Law of War. Leaders are trained on supervising the handling of enemy personnel and equipment at the squad level and enforcing compliance with the Geneva and Hague Conventions.

Sir,

MG Burns requested that you review the response prior to him sending it to DA.

Below are the original questions
Subject: Schlesinger Panel: Analysis of training requirements from CONUSAs and TSBs for deploying Units.

1. The SecDef has established an Independent Panel to review DoD Detention Operations, headed by the Hon. James Schesinger. Army G-3, in conjunction with the other staff sections, will support the DoD Independent panel in responding to requests for information.

2. VCSA wants to get information on what the training requirements were from the CONUSA and supporting TSB for RC Units during the period that detainee abuse occurred.

a. Overview of what deploying units were required to train on?

(1) What tasks were conducted pre-mobilization?

(2) What tasks were conducted at mobilization?

(3) What were post mobilization tasks conducted (broadly)?

(4) What shortcomings were noted, and corrective actions taken?

b. What guidance did CONUSAs and Training Support Brigades operate from at the time of mobilization?

c. Was training and validation of units at mobilization stations consistent?

d. Did units receive theater specific mission training requirements?

e. Did Military Police units receive Internment/Resettlement training?

Have sent the appointment memo from Sec Rumsfield on NIPR as well.

Suspense to DA is today. Don't think MG Burns will send without your review.

Thanks,

LTC [redacted]

Sir,

Forwarded is our input to the Schlesinger tasking:

talked w/ DAMO-TR POC (LTC [redacted] this morning ... they're looking for the broad description of post-mob training and activities and specifics on the 3 units discussed before

Per your guidance, we've attached the 1A info papers on those units.

information we requested from 1A on specific MI units (325th and 323d) is incomplete ... 1A continues to work .. DA does not expect today

TRADOC and DA staff are working the cross walk of doctrine to Army Regs ... DAMO-TR will forward to later us for our reference Recommend we forward attached files to DAMO-TR today ... forward MI unit data when complete.
